

University of Tokyo
Economics

Title: Assistant Professor (Lecturer), or Associate Professor

Section: International: Full Time

JEL Classification: Applied Microeconomics (Industrial Organization), Macroeconomics

The Faculty of Economics at the University of Tokyo invites applications for tenure-track assistant professor/tenured Associate positions starting in the fall of 2013 or earlier. We invite applications from candidates with outstanding research potential and strong teaching skills in the fields of either Applied Microeconomics (with a particular preference on Industrial Organization) or Macroeconomics.

Applicants should possess or be close to completing a Ph.D. degree with outstanding research promises. The appointees should be able to teach doctoral, master and undergraduate degree programs in either English or Japanese, and is expected to be committed to high-quality scholarly research and services. Candidates for Associate Professorship should have a proven record of high-quality scholarship and teaching, and be able to conduct ongoing active research agenda and provide leadership and services within the Faculty.

Information about the Faculty of Economics can be obtained at <http://www.e.u-tokyo.ac.jp/>. For further inquiry about the posts, please contact the Faculty of Economics by email at recruit2013@e.u-tokyo.ac.jp.

Application Instructions:

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae and a writing sample of current research to Ms. Sayo Yoko-o at the Graduate School of Economics, University of Tokyo via recruit2013@e.u-tokyo.ac.jp. Upon the submission, please make sure to indicate the field of application (Industrial Organization, or Macroeconomics). Three letters of recommendation should be sent directly to recruit2013@e.u-tokyo.ac.jp. The application deadline is 1 December 2012.